FIRST REZONING ACTION UP TO COUNCIL

Premier Nehru Is Target Of Angry Uprising

Move To Change Map Of Nation Brings 6th Day Of Disorders

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Rioting in Bombay State today threatened to spread to other parts of the country as protests mounted against Prime Minister Nehru's plan to redraw the map of India. Angry demonstrators battled police and put the torch to big cotton warehouses in the scarred city of Bombay. Reports of fresh violence came from other parts of the state in the sixth straight day of disorder. Word of disturbances also came from the states of West Bengal, Orissa and Bihar where demonstrators, apparently aroused by the Bombay riots, began staging their own protests against Nehru's reorganization plans. The Bombay crisis stemmed from the government's intent to split the state into three parts: The Marathi-speaking south, the Gujarati-speaking north and bilingual Bombay City under federal control. Nehru's ruling Congress party faces a dilemma over Marathi demands for including Bombay City in the Marathi-speaking state. About half the city's three million people are Marathas.

SOME OBSERVERS BELIEVE THE party will lose its long-time stronghold of Bombay unless Nehru yields to the demands.

Nehru's top foreign policy adviser, V. K. Krishna Menon, arrived in Bombay en route to New Delhi from U. N. headquarters in New York.

Political sources said Menon probably will discuss the situation with Bombay City officials.

Police declared the riot situation was improving in Bombay City. But before noon today they had counted two new dead raising the official toll to 51. Some observers said the actual count may be double the official tally.

Authorities said seven persons perished yesterday in clashes with police and five others died in hospitals from wounds suffered earlier this week. Police said they were shot while looting shops.

Bombay police said they had arrested 1,806 persons in the rioting so far this week.

Most of today's action in this city centered around the famed "Cotton Green" area where some 5,000 rioters milled about while the warehouse burned.

New York Fuel Truck Strike Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—Fuel truck drivers were back at work today after a five-day strike that Mayor Robert Wagner said had threatened to become a "catastrophe."

Fuel deliveries were resumed at 4 p. m. yesterday after the drivers, members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, voted to accept an increase of 30 cents an hour in wages and benefits.

The strike had cut off practically all coal deliveries and about 60 per cent of fuel oil deliveries.

Tractors Assigned Hazardous Duty

MOOSEJON, Ont. (AP)—Four tractor trains have churned out of this James Bay town on a hazardous 300-mile run to carry supplies for the mid-Canada radar line.

The project calls for 10 trains to shuttle day and night to Cape Henrietta Maria, north of here on the west coast of James Bay, until next spring's ice breakup.

The project will be supervised from the air by a bush plane and a helicopter. The trains will travel about three miles an hour.

THE IMPORTANT PLACE newspapers play in community life was evidenced when Detroiters had to be satisfied for six weeks with other news sources. That city's three big dailies were strike-bound for that length of time, but recently resumed publication. Above is shown how news-starved sidewalk customers reached for the first copies. All-Expense-Paid Trip For Two Top Award At Local Auto Show

Two people, living within a 17-mile radius of Circleville, will receive an all-expense paid week's vacation in fabulous Miami Beach, Fla.—if they attend the second annual Automobile Show at the Fairgrounds coliseum and win the top award. Doors will be open from noon until 10 p. m. today and Sunday.

The trip will top a list of prizes to be presented during the show. The winners need not be on the premises at the time the prizes are announced Sunday night.

The three-day show opened Friday night. The early crowd was up to expectations, according to a spokesman for the Circleville New Car Dealers Association, which sponsors the event. Even larger crowds are expected today and Sunday.

While roaming through the coliseum looking at the 1956 models from 10 major manufacturers, visitors will be eligible for a whole host of gifts. These include:

A MINIATURE electric car; a bicycle; a set of four white sidewall tires; a portable record player; a 22 caliber rifle; a set of silverware; an electric toaster; an electric skillet; a clock-radio; and a steam iron.

The top award winner, in addition to the trip, will receive $100 in spending money. However, the winner must live within a 17-mile radius of Circleville.

Last year's show was witnessed by approximately 2,500 persons. This was an overwhelming response to the initial showing of new cars.

Constant Sneezing Exhausts Girl, 16

DUNDEE, Ill. (AP)—Jean Gentile just can't stop sneezing. The exhausted 16-year-old girl now is in her 34th day of the spell of sneezing that started while shopping Dec. 16.

Illinois Research Hospital doctors in Chicago have treated her and reduced the sneezes from nine to three times a minute.

Jean is a sophomore at Dundee High School. She gave up her classes and spends most of her time reading and watching television. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gentile.

Cemetery Labor Assigned To Boys

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Working in the cemetery is the punishment given five Lake Wales high school boys who dug up a grave after reading of grave robbing in Charles Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities."

They will have to spend two hours a week for the rest of 1956 maintaining and restoring graves under responsible supervision.

Juvenile Judge G. Bowdon Hunt also revoked their drivers licenses and ordered their families to pay for reimbursement of the bones. All of the boys are 16.

Hunt Still On For Indiana Jail Escapee

'Mad Dog Killer' Said Cleverest Since Days Of John Dillinger

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Trails continued to lead in many directions today as police of five states sought to trace Leslie Irvin, Indiana's cleverest escapee since John Dillinger.

The 31-year-old "mad dog killer," under sentence to die June 12 for murder and indicted for five other slayings, slipped out of Gibson County jail in nearby Princeton Wednesday night. Left behind were a fearful cellmate, four unlocked doors and a cardboard key.

The most likely trail led westward. State police said Irvin mailed three letters early Thursday morning, before his escape had been discovered, in Mount Carmel, Ill.

A St. Louis hotel waitress, Mrs. Ruth Patton, who said she knew Irvin years ago, told police she saw the fugitive Thursday afternoon standing inside the door of a cafeteria at the Milner Hotel.

Mrs. Patton said she was so frightened she locked herself in her room and remained there all night. Then she read of Irvin's escape and notified police.

Irvin also was reported in St. Louis County, in Rolla, Mo.; near Springfield, Mo.; Plymouth, Ind.; Vandalia, Ohio; Watseka, Ill., and Chicago.

A CARDBOARD key, reinforced with tinfoil, was regarded by police as one of the most ingenious escape devices since the wooden gun carved by gangster John Dillinger in 1934. Dillinger used the gun to escape from the Lake County Jail in Crown Point, Ind.

State police and FBI agents found the key hidden above a shower in Irvin's cell in Princeton. It was made from pieces of cigarette cartons and was strong enough to operate the lock on the cell door.

Bits of paper and soap were found in the lock. Police said the soap could have been used for a pattern, or Irvin might have memorized the pattern.

Police said Irvin may have made more than one key. He had to unlock two other steel doors and a wooden door to escape.

Irvin's cellmate, Lawrence Bryant, 57, of Palestine, Ill., awaiting trial in a triple killing, talked reluctantly, fearful of Irvin's threats to get even with him if he should "sneak." Bryant admitted helping Irvin open the cell door, a job one man could not have done.

Convicted of murder and sentenced to death last month, Irvin was to have been transferred to the Indiana State Prison in Michigan City next week.

He was convicted in the holdup-killing of W. Wesley Kerr, 29-year-old Evansville filling station attendant, Dec. 23, 1954.

Irvin is under indictment in the robbery-killing of two women in Evansville and three members of a Henderson, Ky., farm family.

Meanwhile all law enforcement agencies in Ohio were keeping a sharp lookout for Irvin, running down nearly a dozen reports that the man had been seen in various sections of the state.

In many of the reports motorists reporting seeing hitchhikers they believed to resemble the fugitive. Dayton, Xenia, Lima, and Findlay areas were among the spots where varied reports were received.

Bandit Performance Labeled Perfect

NEW YORK (AP)—Two gunmen put on a three-minute, apparently rehearsed "hit" part backstage at a Broadway musical Friday night which cost the management $7,000.

The hit play, "Plain and Fancy," stresses the difference between honest Amish folks in Pennsylvania and city slickers.

Just as company Manager Al Jones started to hand out paychecks, the two bandits slipped through the stage entrance. Jones handed over an envelope holding individual packets containing pay for the performers and a number of backstage workers.

Ike To Campaign For His Policies

GOP Promised Eisenhower Boost Even If He Shuns Reelection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Either as a candidate or as a "worker in the ranks," President Eisenhower has promised to battle "with all my strength" for the policies of his administration.

Despite the uncertainty with which he viewed his role, Eisenhower's promise of support last night cheered more than 70,000 Republicans whose "Salute to Eisenhower" dinners up to $100 a plate raised an estimated $5 million for GOP campaign purposes.

Responding to demands that he run again, Eisenhower said "my future role remains undetermined, whether to be a candidate for your nomination or a worker in the ranks." But he promised his help in either case.

The President arose smiling and outwardly hale and hearty to return the salute of 53 dinners throughout the country. But tears clouded his eyes as he acknowledged the tribute, saying "The heart is so full that it is indeed dangerous to say more than 'thank you.'"

Eisenhower told 1,700 diners in Washington and about 60,000 more over the country that his decision, when it is reached, will not be a selfish one.

"I COULD devoutly wish that there were some other method by which the American people could, under the circumstances, point out the path of my true duty," he said. "But it appears that this is a question that I alone must answer."

The Republicans who cheered his entrance with Mrs. Eisenhower, gowned in purple and carrying American beauty red roses, left no doubt they would like him make an affirmative decision.

Neither did the closed circuit television flashbacks, from Los Angeles to New York, leave any thought that the Republicans saluting his third anniversary in the White House have in mind any other candidate but Eisenhower.

Some of them obviously were cheered by Eisenhower's statement that he hopes his decision

Interstate Disaster Pact Plan Set Up

COLUMBUS (AP)—Civil Defense pacts between Ohio and 26 other states will provide mutual help in case disaster strikes.

This was disclosed yesterday by Maj. Leo M. Kreber, Ohio Civil Defense director who outlined benefits in the mutual aid program.

Kreber said a pact had been executed with the state of New York and that amendments have been made to existing pacts with Oregon, Florida and West Virginia.

Revised agreements conform to the model interstate pact.

Kreber said the pacts provide that each state will make available to other states whatever Civil Defense forces not already committed at home in the event of attack by enemy nations or natural disaster.

Kreber said Gov. Frank J. Lausche cited these advantages in the agreements:

It will be possible to get help if needed; the pacts establish the basis upon which the disaster forces would operate and be paid; and the pacts eliminate, for the emergency period, restrictions which normally prevent professional and technical personnel such as doctors and engineers from practicing in other states without a license.

Harriman 'Thanks' Editors For Dems

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman thanks the nation's editors for "keeping us Democrats on our toes throughout the years."

And, he added with a wry twist: "I think that's why the Democratic party is so much better than the Republican."

Planning Body Surprised, To 'Wait And See'

Zoning Unit Hears General Details Of Shopping Center

City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins has ruled that council, instead of the planning and zoning commission, must act first in the move to rezone an area north of Hargus Creek to clear the way for a shopping center.

His decision, revealed last night, caught members of the planning body by surprise, just when they were prepared to hear details on the rezoning plan and schedule a public hearing. After studying the solicitor's ruling, sent to the commission by way of Mayor Bob Hedges, members of the planning unit decided Robbins would have to be asked to clarify his ruling before action could proceed.

At stake is a comeback attempt by a plan that would clear the way for immediate construction of a big supermarket in an area immediately north of the creek and between N. Court and Pickaway streets. It would be the nucleus for the shopping center. After arousing strong opposition here late last year, a similar proposal failed to win approval of the planning commission. Later, council voted in favor of the commission's stand.

Now, however, Robbins has ruled that this procedure was incorrect, and that the city lawmakers must first launch an ordinance asking for the necessary rezoning. Fourteen property owners have asked that the area, now in a residential zone, be changed to a commercial rating.

Ohio GOPsters Join Salute To Eisenhower

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio Republicans joined in the "Salute to Eisenhower" campaign fund raising dinners last night.

Pride and anxiety were in abundance at two dinners in Cleveland—pride over the President's accomplishments and anxiety over whether he will decide to seek reelection.

Some 2,500 Ohio Republicans attended $100-a-plate dinners held simultaneously at the Masonic Hall and Hotel Carter.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who gave the main address, and other speakers were shuttled between the dinners.

Halleck told the diners he thought the President would seek a second term.

"The President is alert and active," the Congressman said. "He is full of bounce and sparkle."

In Cincinnati, U. S. Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) predicted an overwhelming Republican victory in the 1956 election if Eisenhower is the nominee.

He declared that with Eisenhower as the nominee "no matter who the Democrat is, we're going to whip them worse than they've ever been whipped before."

Calling the President, "one of the most dynamic men in history," Duff said, "Under his leadership, we cannot fail."

"They liked Ike when he was a candidate and they like Ike as President and I am positive they want Ike again," he said.

Pup All Souped Up By Energy Pills

ALSAGER, England (AP)—The Philip Johnson family got home from the movies and found Susan, their Boxer pup, bouncing her rubber bone off the ceiling and charging through the house like a souped up greyhound.

Nearby was a box the pup had apparently knocked from a window. It previously contained Mrs. Johnson's energy pills.

"She had eaten a whole month's supply of pills prescribed by my doctor," said Mrs. Johnson.

A veterinarian said Susan should be all right, but that when she calms down she'll have something resembling a king-size hangover.

"SIZE 32 ESKIMO IN SIZE 42 PARKA"

Eskimos, of course, can't be blamed for not being stylish. There just aren't any fashionable stores up there. If there had been some snappy Madison Avenue Trading Posts in the neighborhood this fellow could have gotten himself a nice charcoal grey parka, with three buttons, narrow lapels and a tattersall harpoon. Something should be done about this situation. For instance, why not publish a list of the 10 Best Dressed Eskimos every year; and get Christian Dior to design some Walrus Hide Tuxedos suitable for formal Bear Hunts. Or maybe a Herring Bone sport coat (made from real herring bones) appropriate for lounging around the Igloo. And someone could publish an Arctic Style Magazine called "Eskimosquire."

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Church Of Christ Announces Topic Of Sunday Sermon

The sermon topic announced for the Church of Christ for Sunday is, "Unworthy Of Everlasting Life".

The basis of this lesson is taken from Acts 13:46 which says: "Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you; but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo we turn to the Gentiles."

Of this lesson Evangelist Charles Cochran says: "Sometimes people so act as to be undeserving of favors bestowed upon them by others. This was the way that many of the Jews had acted toward God and the preaching of the Gospel. When Paul and Barnabas came to Antioch in Pisidia, and preached the gospel there, many of the Jews were filled with envy because the Gentiles were interested in hearing the truth. Many times the preaching of truth will make the preacher unpopular. Especially is this true if the message is calculated to condemn certain sins or practices of the hearers or oppose their prejudiced views as was the case on this occasion."

"The sin of these Jews was that of rejecting the Gospel. In this way they were judging themselves to be unworthy of everlasting life. God's method of extending his grace to sinful man is through the gospel of Christ (Rom. 1:16-17). When we turn the gospel down we turn God down and manifest our ingratitude for all that He has done for us, which (ingratitude) is one of the most despicable of all sins. "It is a popular conception that though a person may have come to a full realization of the requirements of the gospel he still has plenty of time to accept and many chances to obey it. This is dangerous doctrine! In every case of New Testament conversion all who obeyed the gospel did it the very day they heard. To turn it down one time is to harden one's heart and lessen his chances of everlasting life."

Episcopalians Set For Annual Event 'Feast Of Lights'

The annual Feast of Lights pageant will be presented in St. Philip's Church Sunday evening following the service of choral evensong beginning at 7:30 p. m. The pageant will be played by members of the parish youth group.

The Feast of Lights pageant is a dramatic portrayal of Christ's coming into the world, the calling of the apostles and the spread of Christianity to all peoples of the earth. A large Christmas candle is placed on the Altar and from it the apostles candles are lighted. By the apostles candles, the light is carried from the Christus Candle to candles held by all members of the congregation representing all the peoples of the earth.

At the end of the pageant, a general recessional from the church is held with all the candles still lighted. Members of the congregation then carry the light to their own homes as a symbol of their acceptance of their own missionary responsibility to carry the light to others.

According to the ancient traditions of the service, members who get their lighted candle to their own home will receive a particular blessing on their missionary work during the coming year's activity.

Narrator for the pageant will be David Hutzelman. George Dingess will read the first and second lessons at evensong. The offering received will be used for the benefit of youth work in the parish.

The public is cordially invited to attend the special service and will be most welcome. Members of St. Philip's Parish are being urged to bring their neighbors and friends.

City Presbyterians To Hear Sermon Of 'Living Church'

"The Living Church" is the theme for the morning worship at the Presbyterian Church during the regular hour of 10:30.

(Col. 1:18).

The choir will sing the anthem, "Come Ye Blessed". Mrs. Clark will direct the choir; James Carr will sing the baritone solo part. Hymns will include, "The Church's One Foundation" and "Rise Up, O Men of God."

Catholic Church Asking Prayers For World Unity

Throughout the world from January 18 to January 25, the Catholic Church asks the faithful to pray for unity.

In order to bring about this Brotherhood of Man in Christ, eight days of special prayer have been set aside with a special intention for each day. The following is to be said each day:

Antiphon
"That they all may be one as Thou, Father, in Me and I in Thee; that they also may be one in Us; that the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me."
"Verse: I say unto thee that thou art Peter."
"Response: And upon this rock I will build My Church."
Prayer
"O Lord Jesus Christ, Who said unto Thine apostles: 'Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you, regard not our sins, but the faith of Thy Church, and grant unto her that peace and unity which are agreeable to Thy Will; who livest and reignest, God forever and ever, Amen.'"

St. Philip's Church Skeds Celebration Of Theological Day

St. Philip's Church will observe Theological Education Sunday this week at all its services and activities for the day. By presentation of a special offering, the address by a seminary student and prayerful intention for all those in seminary, the parish family will be reminded of the importance in the life of the church of theological education and their part in the training of young men for the priesthood.

A theological Education Sunday offering will be presented by the parish family at all the services Sunday morning in answer to a special appeal for every Episcopalian to help in expanding the facilities and program of seminaries. The offering received at St. Philip's Church, through use of special envelopes mailed to each parishioner, will be sent to Bexley Hall, Divinity School of Kenyon College, at Gambier.

At the 8 a. m. celebration of The Holy Communion, the Rector of St. Philip's Church, the Rev. Jack C. Faith Outbound
This is a scene you see every Sunday . . . hundreds of men and women pouring out of our churches. What effect does it have on the life of our community?

There was more happiness in our streets this week . . . more sympathy and understanding . . . more kindness and helpfulness . . . more determination to attain the highest moral and spiritual ideals.

We won't see Utopia next week. Human nature is still human. Perfection is God's alone.

But crowded churches change many lives. Worship and prayer strengthen souls. The seed God plants never dies, if we are determined to cultivate it.

Come to Church next Sunday. And when you leave, you and our community will be richer because you were there.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

INDISPENSABLE NEWSPAPER

IN DETROIT the presses of the city's three big daily newspapers are roaring once more and editions are hitting the street. The metropolis seems to have been reborn and has regained its cohesion as a community.

The newspaper strike that started December 1 severed the lifeline of the city — the free interchange of information, knowledge and ideas that welds a community together. The reading public, shaken from the habit of a lifetime, felt a keen sense of deprivation and frustration.

As the strike continued, subscribers struggled to adjust themselves to the routine of newscasts, but most of them found this difficult to achieve. Practically all of the readers said they were "absolutely lost" without their daily paper.

Aside from the general news—local, national and international—every feature in every newspaper had its share of mourners. The Page One news, the stories on the inside, the human interest stories, the editorials, the comics, crossword puzzles, horoscopes, cartoons, the television and radio listings, the women's news and features were all missed.

Financial news, stock market quotations, real estate sections, death notices, marriage licenses, church news, fraternal news, classified ads, the pictures—the million and one things found in a daily newspaper—all had their mourners.

Not the least often repeated lament was the absence of big advertisements. The big full-page ads chockfull of merchandise and food bargains were especially missed by housewives. Comments on shopping difficulties were multitudinous.

A housewife said: "With no newspaper ads to follow, the strike prevented our family from getting the most from its shopping dollar. Random shopping was highly unsatisfactory and often unproductive."

Said another shopper: "There was no way I could compare prices without getting out and footing it around."

Attendance at theaters and sporting events was below normal because of insufficient advertising.

Absence of printed death notices and obituaries also created problems. Several funerals of well-known persons who died during the strike were practically unattended because there were no newspaper death notices. Florists, of course, suffered a drop in business.

Real estate men keenly felt the loss of classified advertising space on which they rely heavily.

The financial world had its problems due to lack of details. Many readers—business executives, professional people and small investors—complained because stock quotations were not available.

The Detroit strike has emphasized how essential newspapers are in the complex American way of life. Newspapers are the mainstay of the exchange of information necessary to modern living. The emergency showed how rooted the daily newspaper is in the lives of the people—from the executive level to the factory worker.

RATE WAR DANGER SLIGHT

IF WAR SHOULD break out this year, the eruption probably would occur in the Far East or the Middle East. Consensus of opinion in Washington is that there will be no major conflict in either region.

Secretary Quarles of the U. S. Air Force, after a survey of the Far East, reports the balance of air power is in good shape. There had been hints of such tremendous red air superiority in Red China that the Chinese might attack at any time.

But Quarles says it would be most unwise for the communists to attack any free world position in the Far East. They might have local superiority in air power, though the United States is building up Formosa's jet strength. But Quarles asserts that the entire free world air power is very satisfactory in relation to total communist air power. Planes are so speedy now that local air superiority is less important than formerly.

In this tinder box world a flame can start anywhere at any moment. But leaders of nations are more impressed by the destructiveness and futility of war than ever.

These Days

They tell me that when one has had a coronary, one should rest body and mind and everything. That may be a good rule, but an impossible one because a man is not a vegetable and the mind does work. Even if nothing has registered in the mind, if there are no little tabs that poke out to jog the memory, the mind nevertheless does work on.

It can, of course, be deadened by narcotics, but the mind and memory of man will find a way through the most deadening poisons to express a thought, or what one imagines is a thought. For that is the difference between a man and a vegetable: Man must think, even the least and dumbest of men must think.

It is possible so to narcotize the mind that one is groggy nearly all the time and it is now possible to brain-wash the mind, so that everything is taken out of it and something new put in it. I wonder! I lie here and wonder how much has really been washed out of the mind of Cardinal Mindszenty. It would be important to know.

It is an experience to lie here, not too far removed from death itself. It is all right now, I am told. The worst may be over. They are very cagey, these doctors. They do not say that the worst is over; it may be over. They cannot tell. Naturally no one can tell, and does it really matter. Carlyle, whom I am trying to read in this heavily sedated atmosphere, says this in his Essay on Burns:

"For will not our own age, one day, be an ancient one; and have as quaint a costume as the rest; . . ."

There is so much humility in this wisdom, and if the fault of our period is to be discovered, it will be that humility has flown from us as a thing unwanted. What we call democracy has turned out to be a terrific struggle, among sometimes the least worthy, to discover who is the big shot.

Men project themselves for high office who, were they at all affected by their consciences, would, in humility, regard even the mention of their names in such a connection as ridicule of them. When one comes close to death, the exaggerations of self seem too silly. So, everybody knows you. So, everybody recognizes you. So, when you go into a restaurant, you get a table. You might even get credit in a bank. But what of credit with God?

That awful moment when it is a sort of yes or no, what is the answer? And how helpless can you be — utterly, completely helpless. And the strange men come and put you on a stretcher and you are captive.

From then on, you are captive. What you eat, what you do, even when you wash yourself, is decided by someone else. You ask for something you like and it exceeds the calories allowed. You are a machine out of order, being repaired because you did not altogether collapse. And will the repair last and only give you a respite?

Naturally, when I ask questions about myself, I am also asking about Ike and this I can say with a sense of thorough truthfulness: such matters as life and death, as strong heart or weak heart, as coronaries that blow like fuses are in the hands of God.

The research on the heart has gone quite a distance and that that is so, I can attest by the lines which I pen in a hospital bed in longhand, although I may not move unassisted. I can do this little each day as Ike can paint each day.

But no man, no doctor knows for sure why these things happen and if happening once, they will ever occur again. To make a fetish of a coronary is like refusing to use an automobile because a tire has had a blow-out. There may never be another blow-out. Also, one might get better tires—that is live a less irritating life.

Politics in our age must be irritating because it is not pretty. The men are small. The ways are vulgar. Honor, respect, probability seem to have disappeared. But there have been other eras like this and they are corrected as men regain humility and turn again to God and God's law. So we must walk through the mud until we reach the hard gravel that leads up the mountain — to its top where the light is clear and small things are small and greatness is great.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

A NUMBER of Chambers of Commerce in the state report that much new blood is being signed up to help carry the civic load this year. Men who have been "too busy" to serve on committees in the past, and even some who up to now have refrained from taking any active part in civic affairs, are volunteering to serve this season.

A multitude of community projects, as well as intercity cooperation, require community manpower that works without pay, the only reward being a conscience that says "well done." Every town still needs more volunteers.

A Doctor in the Family

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

© 1955, by Elizabeth Seifert. Reprinted by permission of the publisher, DODD, MEAD & CO. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

This is a story of love and conflict, revealing of both family life and the medical profession. It is the story of Linda Thornton, the doctor she married, and his kin. Linda's strongest memories date from her tenth wedding anniversary, an occasion for her being made sharply aware of the disappointment felt by her parents-in-law because she is childless. The Thorntons—old Jasper, his wife Seretha (Ma'am)—and their clan are dominant in Valhalla, Mo. Thorntons center in Alan, who is surgeon-in-charge at the Thornton-built local hospital, because their other son, John, left home under a cloud. Alan and Linda live at the family estate, Fiddlers Green, as do Alan's widowed sister, Margaret; her young twins, Jim and Ann; Seretha's brother, Arthur; and his wife, Flora. Margaret has an older son, Silas, who is away in the Army.

Learning that Army Captain Blake will attend the anniversary dinner party, Seretha remarks to Linda that Blake doesn't always remember he has a wife (a mentally ill invalid). "Nor, I'm afraid, does my daughter." Guests begin to arrive for the party while Alan, who was delayed by an emergency operation, is dressing. Uncle Arthur quizzes him about Miss Little Mae. Arthur's daughter was hospitalized with a fractured hip. "Her accident has somewhat complicated things," says Arthur.

CHAPTER EIGHT

AMONG the groups gathered that night in the silver and white parlor, the lion was Rupert Ernst, the Austrian refugee at resident practice in Alan's hospital. His personal success was instant and great. A very attractive man in a dark, smooth way, he had charming old-world manners. On his arrival, he had stood for a minute surveying the room, then he had gone swiftly to Seretha. "Madame Thornton," he said, "Dr. Rupert Ernst, at your service!" He bowed, took Ma'am's hand, lifted it to his lips. Seretha's white head tossed in triumph, her cheeks flushed pink. She made a place for the new doctor at her side, undertook his introduction to the other guests, and to her family.

Linda was standing before an old mirror hung between two brocade-draped windows. In the glass could be seen the back of her head, the sweet curve of her shoulder. Dr. Ernst looked first at the reflection, and then at Linda's glowing face. Whenever Seretha distracted his attention for a minute, his gaze always returned to Linda. Seretha saw this, and her face was cold when he finally excused himself so that he might "speak to the honoree of the evening." Swiftly he made his way to Linda's side; he bowed and smiled at her, his eyes intent.

They stood in conversation, and something in the man's manner, or hers, made each one of the family look anew at Linda. "I'd say the new man was smitten," declared Aunt Fera, fluttering with victorious excitement. "Why not?" demanded Captain Blake. "She's just as lovely as she looks!" declared Margaret. "I hope Alan doesn't resent his attentions," twittered Aunt Flora. "A man," declared Margaret, "should be flattered to have his wife so admired."

"Poor Linda is quite flustered," said Aunt Flora enviously. Linda was somewhat flustered; she acknowledged to herself that she was definitely excited to have drawn the marked attention of this man whose every word, and every glance, was flattering. Thus absorbed, Linda failed to see Alan when he entered the room. Everyone noticed that, too.

As the plates were served and brought around, Linda saw his finger stroke the smooth white silver of his fork handle, weighing the knife in his hand before he used it.

The thought struck her that this man was considering the people assembled in the same fashion, looking them over for outward appearance, trying thus to determine each one's importance, to assay the pure quality of their characters as against the alloy of their failings. It was a detached and somewhat calculating attitude.

Well, she excused this, perhaps Alan would need to do the same thing if he were set down in a place of high barometric pressure to a place of lower pressure.

Book-trade journals often ask publishers to supply summaries of forthcoming novels in "35 words or less." Julien Dedman, of Scribner's, says that had this practice been in vogue in the golden age of Athens, a preview of "The Odyssey" probably would have read something like this: "Strange goings-on in murky waters off the coast of Greece. Several wanton murders by a character named Ulysses. When he finally returns home, he rubs out the suitor of his wife who was planning to divorce him for desertion."

DIET AND HEALTH

Injured Hand Requires Exercise After Healing

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

GETTING injured hands back in working order after they have healed sometimes can be quite a problem. After removal of a cast or some other apparatus which has kept it immobile, a hand usually is stiff and somewhat painful. Those first movements probably will hurt quite a bit.

Best Methods

Exercise and heat are the best methods of relieving both the pain and stiffness and generally getting your hand in operating order again. Massage, too, is helpful in relieving any swelling which might be present.

Stretching the skin by exercising helps improve circulation. Heat also spurs circulation, and in addition deadens the ends of the pain receptor nerves. This, of course, eliminates much of the pain and permits easier movement of the stiff hand and fingers.

Don't, however, soak your hand in hot water at home without explicit instructions from your doctor. He'll probably advise whirlpool baths, available at many hospitals.

In this technique, your hand is placed in water heated to about 105 degrees for about 10 or 15 minutes. Your doctor may have you squeeze a sponge under water at the same time to exercise your hand.

He will also advise specific exercises to strengthen various sections of the hand and fingers. Most of them, I believe, will be done with sponges. Rubber balls, as a general rule, don't give as good results.

Simple Exercise

There's one simple exercise you can perform to strengthen all of your fingers. Take a sheet of newspaper in one hand and roll it into a ball without dropping it.

Pulleys, weights and the like are valuable for strengthening arm muscles. But your doctor will give you specific instructions for your own particular case.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

T. V. N.: Will contact lenses injure my eyes?

Answer: If properly fitted, there is no evidence that contact lenses can cause any injury to the eyes. However, it seems that most people who try to use contact lenses cannot wear them because of discomfort.

With eye diseases in which the cornea, which is the transparent covering of the opening into the eyeball, is deformed, contact lenses are particularly helpful.

Glamour Treatment Given Corduroy This Season

The surprise appearance of Silky soft in texture, it lends itself to an exciting interpretation making it one of the most glamorous styles of the season.

Fashioned into dresses, theater suits, and evening ensembles, the fabric achieves a grand air when embellished with embroidery, fur and satin. In knowing hands, the effect is one of great chic and sophistication.

From France, comes the hand-some, fitted coat dress in gray, pictured above, which has a scarf of softest mink, tucked into its stand-away collar for an added aura of luxury.

The frock has a gracefully full skirt, hip pockets and three-quarter sleeves.

Carrying out the Oriental theme, in patterns derived from Indian saris is another outfit. The two-piece costume consists of a fairly full skirt embroidered in gold, combined with a draped top, also of corduroy, which dramatically bares one shoulder.

In a third creation, corduroy takes a party look when used with satin for important after-five occasions.

It features a stalk-slim sheath of fawn beige which is touched with the sheen of blue satin at the bodice. It is worn with a matching coat lined in satin.

Ashville '5' Buries Monroe In Runaway 99-57 Contest

Broncos Walk Away With Homecoming Game To Practically Clinch County League Title

BY LOU FABRO
Herald Staff Writer

After a fairly close first quarter, unbeaten Ashville poured it on to win a runaway league basketball game over Monroe's fighting Indians, 99-57.

The Friday night victory, which greatly pleased a jam-packed homecoming crowd, practically clinched a third straight league title for the mighty Broncos.

The loss shattered a seven-game winning streak for the Monroe quintet as well as its hopes for a possible share in the league championship. Prior to this game, the Indians' only loss was to Pickaway.

Ashville's red hot regulars, who stayed in for most of the game, just couldn't miss. They fired them in from all corners and when a shot was missed from the outside, rugged Jerry Curry was up in the air, tipping in the rebound.

CURRY not only took scoring honors with 29 points but was a tower of strength in the rebounding department. It was mainly through his efforts, that Ashville was able to control both backboards.

The first quarter of the crucial battle was close, with the lead changing hands four times and the score being tied twice. Scoring eight foul shots to Monroe's one, the Broncos were able to maintain a 20-15 first-stanza advantage.

Ashville bombarded the nets for 33 points in the second period to storm away with a 53-27 intermission lead. After this fancy exhibition of sharp-shooting, the outcome of the game was hardly in doubt.

The Indians were never able to get back in the fight as the gap grew ever larger. Biggest Bronco lead in the third quarter was 36 points.

Coach Bill Wolfe, during a major portion of the last quarter, used his substitutes as the cause became hopeless and his Indians were able to make only 15 points to Ashville's 23 in this period.

WITH ASHVILLE fans shouting for the Broncos to break the century mark, Jerry Riegel, who scored 24 points for the night, took three foul shots but the 100 mark was never reached.

Monroe's Eddie Hix fouled out midway in the third quarter and Stan Jones, who hit for 16 points, went out via the foul route at the start of the fourth frame.

The 99-point total was the largest run up by Ashville this year.

Ashville's big reserve team romped to a 53 to 41 victory over Monroe's seconds.

CHS Days Host To Lucasville Tonight At 7

In the only Saturday night game of the season, the Circleville Tigers will play host to Lucasville tonight during "Booster Night". Any member of the Lucasville team who brings a non-member to the game will be admitted free.

The Tiger varsity will be trying to get back on the victory trail after being defeated by Linden McKinley earlier this week. Also, Circleville will try to keep up its record of not suffering a defeat on its home court this season. CHS reserves, the Kittens, will be out to stretch their unbeaten streak to nine games. The Kittens, in winning their eight straight games, have had to come from behind more than once. Both Circleville teams have staged some "wing dings" recently which have had the fans in a frenzy most of the time.

The reserve game gets under way at 7 p. m. In the past few contests, a huge crowd has been on hand to witness the preliminary game. Tonight's contest should provide no letdown.

CHS has a respectable 7-3 record so far. The Tigers stand 2-2 in SCOL league play and still have a chance to move up. Wilmington, who were defeated by CHS last week, and Washington C. H., to whom CHS lost, both have 3-1 league marks.

Turner Collects Split Decision

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Gil Turner looked toward Gene Fullmer again today, anxious to take on the Utah battler who was expected to provide the competition for the Philadelphia last night.

Instead, young Jackie LaBua filled in for the ill Fullmer and took his second beating from Turner in 37 days. Again, it was a split 10-round decision.

Turner's ring experience again was the major factor. The younger LaBua showed a willingness to mix it with the veteran and nearly every round of the fast-paced battle had a sparkling exchange.

Gonzales defeated Trabert 6-2, 3-6, and 8-6 to stretch his lead in their series to 15 matches to 6. In a preliminary contest, Segura downed Hartwig 8-2. He now leads the Australian in matches 15-5.

In doubles play, Gonzales and Segura beat Hartwig and Trabert 8-6. The Hartwig-Trabert doubles team now leads 17-4.

Loss From Fires In Local Area During 1955 Set At $5,535

Second Lowest In Five Years, Chief Reveals

Wise Calls Attention To Rural Contracts; Cites 'Unusual Flaw'

Fire loss in Circleville and areas under the protection of the Circleville Fire Department has been set at $5,535 for 1955 by Chief Talmer Wise.

Chief Wise said his department answered 142 calls during the past year. The fire loss was the second lowest in the past five years; the same held true for the number of fire runs.

The majority of fire runs are in the city, the chief pointed out. But rural fire runs have kept up the pace.

In this respect, the chief said that present contracts held by the city with surrounding townships contain what could be a serious flaw. He said that his interpretation of the contracts calls for "fighting rural fires the same as they are fought in the city."

CHIEF WISE said this could be taken to mean that in the case of a big rural fire all the city equipment might be called out along with all the manpower. If this should happen, the chief asked, what would take place if a big fire popped up at the same time in the city?

"In other words," Chief Wise said, "we just can't be sending out all our equipment on country runs and leave ourselves unprotected in the city. Our trucks might get stuck or run out of water. And then if we have a city call, what do we do then?"

The chief also pointed out that the new $26,000 Seagrave truck is not used on rural runs. He said the smaller Ford truck can negotiate country roads much better and is more practical for country fires.

Chief Wise said that 1954 was the worst year in the past five as far as fire damage is concerned. However, he quickly pointed out that 1954 was the year of the Maizo Mill fire.

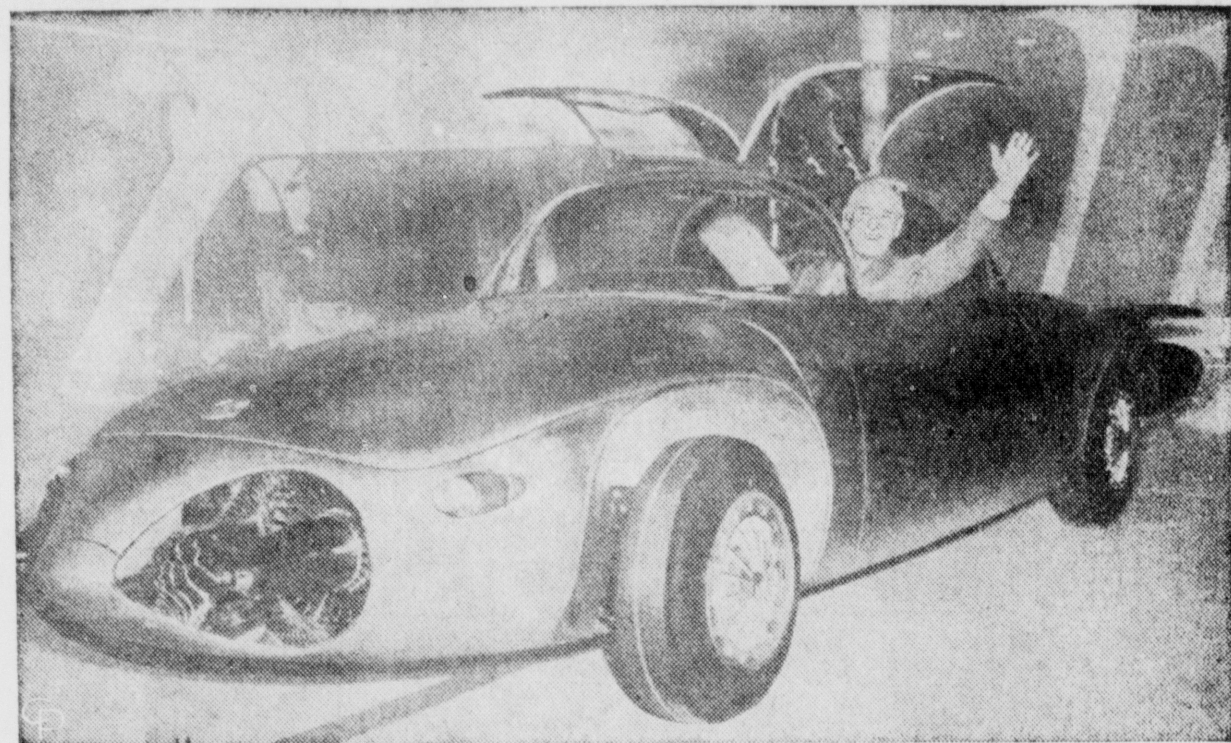

Here are the figures released by Chief Wise:

- 1955—loss, $5,535; calls, 142.
- 1954—loss, $102,665; calls, 130.
- 1953—loss, $18,065; calls, 187.
- 1952—loss, $3,525; calls, 221.
- 1951—loss, $23,435; calls, 168.

CARELESSNESS with cigarettes has been one of the top causes of fires, the chief declared. He said that many auto fires have been started from a cigarette left on a seat.

"People seem to be more interested in fire prevention," Chief Wise said. "The only thing is that people still try to plug in too many appliances in one socket. This causes a lot of short circuits."

The chief pointed out that his department is able to offer better protection now than in recent years. He pointed out that

A GAS TURBINE passenger car, shown above, was one of the top attractions in this year's big Motorama show in New York City. It was one of six experimental models of "dream cars" displayed for those interested in the styles-to-come. Meanwhile, Circleville's Automobile Show is now under way in the coliseum at Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Thousands of driving fans are turning out to see the styles for 1956.

Real Pearls Used In Bean Shooters

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Youngsters said the little pellets made great ammunition for bean shooters.

Then police found the youngsters had been shooting real pearls. Jeweler Charles Uel White, 58, had reported $1,000 worth of the gems taken from his home.

Reports of flying pearls recently led sheriff's deputies to a pair of 13-year-old boys firing them through their bean shooters. The lads thought they were using worthless beads. They were down to their last $300 worth. Pearls worth $150 were recovered from a juvenile battlefield.

Daytonian Robbed Of $6000 By Pair

DAYTON (AP)—Two men robbed a downtown Dayton restaurant operator of $6,000 in cash Friday. Victims of the holdup were George Jarrett Jr., 38, and his wife, Pauline.

The couple, just returned from a nearby bank with money to cash payroll checks, was met at the rear of the restaurant by two men, one of them masked.

One of them grabbed and threatened Mrs. Jarrett just as she got out of an auto.

Then they grabbed the money from Jarrett and ran.

Jarrett recalled he was robbed of $5,000 in a similar holdup just nine years ago last Tuesday.

Ohio Liquor Bill Tops $203 Million

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Liquor Director William C. Bryant says Ohioans paid out a record $203 million for liquor last year.

The 1955 dollar volume of state store sales—wholesale and retail—was $203,208,038 compared to the 1954 high of $195,695,708.
